

Elkhorn Treatment Center

Boyd Andrew Community Services (BACS) has been helping people improve their lives since 1974. Since our beginning, we have been dedicated to providing innovative treatment opportunities to help our clients move out of the shadow of dependency.

To better serve our community, BACS operates the Elkhorn Treatment Center to provide state of the art treatment alternative to guide female offenders toward recovery.

Our contemporary designed complex on 7 acres just outside the city limits of Boulder, MT accents a sense of open space, and features state of the art treatment, education, and occupational programming.

Our promise is to serve as leaders in supporting the transition of our residents to becoming contributing members of the community and make a better tomorrow.

Elkhorn Treatment Center
BOULDER—MONTANA
A Facility For Female Offenders

Who is Eligible

- DOC Commitments
- Parole Violators
- Conditional Release Violators
- Montana Women's Prison inmates
- Sanctioned Offenders

Elkhorn Treatment Center

A community corrections facility providing a Therapeutic alternative to female offenders under the Custody of the Montana Department of Corrections.

Within a therapeutic milieu that is culturally sensitive and oriented to female offenders, treatment approaches are holistic in nature and focus on chemical dependency, management of acute and chronic mental illness, job skill development, and education.

Using established best practices, Elkhorn Treatment Center provides a state of the art therapeutic environment to support our residents in their change process.

OUR STAFF have the expertise in chemical dependency, job development and corrections essential to responding to a full spectrum of residents needs.

RESIDENTS will be given the tools to lead productive crime-free lifestyles

Offenders that can be accepted include:

- Women convicted of a second or subsequent criminal possession of methamphetamine
- Women in need of structured treatment of chronic methamphetamine abuse
- Women in need of structured treatment for a stimulant use disorder that includes abuse of other amphetamines or cocaine
- Women in need of structured treatment for any form of chemical dependency and treatable co-occurring mental illness

Therapeutic Community Milieu

Recovery from chemical dependency requires change of the whole person—psychologically, socially, and behaviorally through

- Interaction
- Modeling
- Leadership
- Membership
- Responsibility
- Honesty

Treatment Works.

Boyd Andrew Community Services has provided successful treatment outcomes for over 30 years.
